Exeter's Got Talent!

A CALL FOR LOCAL TALENT

Exeter will celebrate its local talent all over downtown Exeter between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Saturday May 21, 2011.

A partnership between the Exeter Arts Committee, Exeter Parks and Recreation Department and the Exeter Area Chamber of Commerce is coming together to celebrate our local talent in an exuberant bash.

We are looking for all kinds of talent: painters, potters, musicians, dancers, photographers, street artists, story tellers, poets, local culinary artists, flower arrangers; in other words talents of all stripes. (Only caveat nothing religious or political please).

We hope to have local groups and individuals perform on the newly renovated stage of the Old Town Hall and other great venues throughout the day. We'd like talented folk as 'Artists in Residence' at local eateries and stores throughout town. We will schedule events in our marvelous Town Common and in Founders Park; have fine arts and fine crafts displayed and demonstrated in the Town Hall Gallery and throughout Exeter. We hope photographers will focus their lenses on the people and places that make Exeter special. We'll have storytellers, poets and art projects. If there are jugglers and sculptors working their magic in town, so much the better. We hope our local eateries will feature their specialties and have them available. Culinary delights should be local fare. We want to show the world how much talent exists in the Exeter area!!

Think you or your group would like to be a part of this marvelous celebration? See registration on the back page.
